

10 RESIDENTIAL DEVELOPMENTS THAT CELEBRATE YOUR FURRY FRIENDS

TODAY'S NATIONAL DOG DAY, AND WHAT BETTER WAY TO CELEBRATE YOUR POOCH THAN BY LOOKING FOR A NEW, DOG-FRIENDLY HOME?

By Alyssa Gautieri

Photo courtesy of Throw Me a Bone

According to a survey released by SunTrust Mortgage, 1/3 of millennials who purchased their first home were influenced by the need to have space for a dog and 42% of millennials who haven't bought a home said that their dog, or the desire to own one, would be a key factor in their decision to buy.

In honor of National Dog Day, here are 10 luxury residential developments that offer year-round programs and amenities curated for dogs:

FIFTY THIRD AND EIGHTH

This New York City building offers a private dog park, which is available year round. While providing sunshine and entertainment for pets, owners can relax on the adjacent second floor terrace.

Photo courtesy of Watson & Co.